A DIGITAL COMEDY ABOUT MAKING SOMETHING WHEN YOU HAVE NOTHING

IT'S A WEB SHOW ABOUT A WEB SHOW

We are a passionate group of nerdy, film-loving, independent Los Angeles based artists creating an original comedic series about the world we think we know best: Hollywood.

We use all aspects of social media to tell our story... We have created a community of loyal fans worldwide who celebrate the timeless tale of trying to make something out of nothing and being able to laugh about it every step of the way.

QUICK STATS

- pilot had $0 budget.
- crowdsourced $5K for Eps 3 & 4
- 4K loyal fans called Buffies
- 75K views on YouTube and Vimeo
- 2K/mo unique interactions on Twitter

STORY

Buffering... is the story of Ben Little (Curt Mega), a guy who fell from being kinda famous to unbearably a nobody. To prove that he's still talented, he'll do what every ambitious actor does: make a web series. It's not easy making a web series, especially when you're broke, depressed, and uninspired. Luckily, he has some dysfunctional friends to ruin his flimsy plan. Our story is about a few people doing the best they can to put something together if only they can come together. Until then, everything's buffering...
